

Congressional Member Organizations

Congresswoman Matsui is a member of several caucuses and organizations in the U.S. House of Representatives. Each of these Member Organizations strives to maintain Congressional support and raise the profile of a particular issue or group. In 2007, Congresswoman Matsui also launched the Congressional Children's Study Working Group to secure support for the National Children's Study, a massive study to examine the environmental causes of childhood health afflictions. More information about the Congressional Children's Study Working Group is available here.
