

Protecting Our Environment

Congresswoman Matsui believes that climate change and global warming are two of the most perilous challenges facing America today. Not only are the impacts on the environment evident today, the effects will reverberate far into the future. She believes that taking small steps to reduce our impact on the planet will go a long way, and that larger initiatives will contribute to a healthier, cleaner future for our children and grandchildren. Congresswoman Matsui believes that we need a responsible cap and trade system, and that we must invest in clean technologies. By making preservation of the environment a priority at the Federal level, we will be able to hand a cleaner and safer planet to our future generations.